Update #2016-01

"Terms Of Use"

The "Terms Of Use" for the YFIRES Data System are finalized and have been added to the system. The Terms Of Use is the document that explains the responsibility and relationship between the YFIRES team and those who sign on as Program Administrators, Program Users, and Data Retrievers. Documents such as this are often required by agencies prior to participating in data collection or as a means of understanding the relationship between users.

Because of this change, every registered Program Admin, Program User, and Data Retriever will have their access temporarily shut down until you reset it.

The next time you log in:

1. Review the Terms of Use online and check the "I Acknowledge" box at the bottom of the web page (you will not have to fill in any of the information).
2. If necessary, you can print out the Terms of Use by clicking on the link at the top of the page, review them, and then go back online and check "I Acknowledge" at the bottom of the form (you do not need to send in a printed version).
3. If your organization requires you to submit a signed copy, please email it to Don Porthdon@yfires.com.
4. When you click on the "I Acknowledge" box you will then be allowed access into YFIRES.

Your data and program information will not be lost. Your username and password will not change. This is simply a step we must add in order to ensure all users are working under a common understanding of the system. However, if you do not agree to the Terms Of Use, you will not be able to regain access to the system. The TERMS OF USE document is downloadable from the "Technical Support" tab of the www.YFIRES.com web site.
